Today, NCCNHR is the source for long-term care education, advocacy and policy analysis at both the state and federal level. NCCNHR protects the dignity, rights and safety of America's long-term care residents .

NCCNHR membership benefits include: significantly discounted registration rates for the annual conference; The Gazette - a monthly newsletter summarizing the latest developments and activities in long-term care and advocacy; a weekly long-term care news service; timely policy updates and opportunities for advocacy action; deeply discounted conference calls; and trainings on timely issues and topics.
